Biography or Historical Sketch

University Communications, successor to the University's News and Information Services department*, "serves as the University's marketing and information office for members of the media, the campus and the community." In addition to regularly creating and issuing UTEP publications, such as UTEP Magazine and its predecessor, NOVA Quarterly, the department creates and produces a weekly newsletter, news stories about UTEP and the El Paso community, offers editorial, photography, and videography services, and maintains the school's online and social media platforms. University Communications is also responsible for overseeing the UTEP brand and logos, advertising the school and handling public and media relations, documenting UTEP and community people and events, and producing web and graphic designs for the university. The department is currently located in the Hertzog Building on Wiggins Road.

[*Department was also previously known as News Services, the News Bureau, and News and Publications; Sources: Office of University Communications web site; UTEP Collection, MS 001]

Series Description or Arrangement

Scope and Content Notes

The University of Texas at El Paso University Communications series (part of the UTEP Collection) dates 1970 – 2013, bulk 1990s – 2000s. Types of records include programs, flyers, correspondence, posters, invitations, cards, memorandum, press releases, cassette tapes, video tapes, DVDs, topical files, clippings, university publications, and other printed material. These records help document the university's and University Communications' history and activities during the 1970s to the 2010s. Also noteworthy are records relating to the acquisition and processing of the S.L.A. Marshall Military History Collection housed in the UTEP Library's Special Collections department.

Provenance Statement

Materials were transferred from the UTEP Records Management department to University Communications. University Communications kept some of the transferred materials for their own records. Subsequently, the archivist selected materials for retention in the archives. These materials were transferred to the Special Collections department in early 2013. Due to the large volume of records, archival sampling methods were used by the archivist for news releases, some topical files, job jackets, videos, and news footage. Non-El Paso and/or non-UTEP records as well as duplicate publications and employee records were not retained by the archivist.

Restrictions

None.

Literary Rights Statement
